

Daisys Hopes

By Daisy-Mae Pursey

I hope this is the last lockdown,
And I can visit a seaside town.
To swim in the sea, eat an ice-cream,
running on the beach would be such a dream.

I hope we can return to normal soon,
and I will be dancing under the moon.
Toasting marshmallows under the stars,
Staring at the sky to try and spot Mars.

I hope to see all my magnificent friends,
And this rubbish time to come to an end.
Playing wall to wall and with the skipping ropes,
This is one of my biggest hopes.

I hope to see all my fantastic family too,
and have a massive summer barbeque.
With sausages, burgers and fizzy pop,
and enough delicious desserts to fill me to the top.

I hope to go to the Wivey pool,
as I like to go there after school.
Swimming, jumping with lots of splashing,
and sweets from the tuck shop are really smashing.

I hope I go on holiday somewhere sunny,
that doesn't cost a lot of money.
Going on a aeroplane is really fun,
Then lots and lots of eating in the sun.

I hope to have a birthday party this year,
as last year I couldn't and I shed a tear.
Playing pass the parcel and musical statues is really cool,
with a funny magician acting a fool.

The past year has been really weird,
but these are my hopes when it's all disappeared.
